Everyone laughed and had a great time. She would shrug her shoulders and smile—“IT’S A DEAD FISH!”

She used! Whenever I would ask, ‘Nonna, what kind of fish is this?’... When I was a boy, growing up in Italy, I loved to watch my Nonna work in the kitchen. The catch of the day—be it calamari, crab or a variety of fresh fish—was magic in Nonna’s able hands. With so many people clamoring for her cooking, Nonna couldn’t be bothered with small details. She never followed a recipe she just stirred and sampled and she never remembered the names of the fish she used. Whenever I would ask, “Nonna, what kind of fish is this?” she would shrug her shoulders and smile—“IT’S A DEAD FISH!” Everyone laughed and had a great time.

“With fond memories of my Nonna, I welcome you to THE DEAD FISH.”
